COUNTY TOURNAMENT AND SCHOOL CONTESTS

Believing that our rural schools do not put proper stress upon physical training; and that healthful, competitive games, races, educational contests, etc., put a zest and asperation into school routine for the rural child that is conducive to the best school work; we, the teachers of Crittenden county with the help of Supt. Paris have resolved to hold three County School Events. We have adopted the following schedule governing these events to be held at the appointed time and place.

BETTER SCHOOL WEEK

The letter published below from State Supt. Colvin and the proclamation of Governor Morrow will explain the plan devised by the Kentucky Educational Association for promoting school interest thruout Kentucky. I am asking that the people of Crittenden county cooperate in making this a great educational week. Teachers, preachers, lawyers, merchants, farmers, doctors, men of every occupation are concerned about schools and all can assist in making our schools better.

Some have volunteered to make speeches at the school houses but not enough to reach all the schools during the week; if others will volunteer to hold educational meetings notify me at once, your help will be appreciated.

Teachers are requested to advertise and assist in holding meetings in your school.

Sincerely yours,

J. L. F. PARIS, Supt.

My dear Superintendent.

The Kentucky Educational Association is planning a BETTER SCHOOL WEEK to be observed in every district in every county in the state. The week beginning September 4th has been designated for this purpose. Educational rallies will be held in as many places in each county as the time will allow. The purpose is to acquaint the people of Kentucky with our actual educational conditions and our actual educational needs. It will be a week given first of all to a study of the rights of Kentucky children. Kentucky is entitled to a better educational system. There must be a better administration of whatever system may be ours. We must have better attendance. We must have better buildings. These things must come thru the will and the wish of the people. The people can not will nor wish them until they come to understand the need and the wisdom of them.

We shall have the cooperation of every important organization in Kentucky. One day will be designated "Americanization Day" We shall have the active support of the American Legion in making this day distinctive. Another day will be designated Kentucky Day. On this day we shall emphasize the needs of our institutions of higher learning, particularly of the University. To the interests of the state that believe that Kentucky can be made better. County Superintendents will take the initiative in planning the meetings for the various counties. We shall gladly welcome any suggestions as to plans and methods and purposes.

I am enclosing a sheet upon which I wish you would return to us the names of men and women in your county who will be willing to speak in this campaign. I wish also that you would begin now to plan the meeting places for your county. We hope to begin the week with educational addresses in all our churches on Sunday. We shall want you to indicate the places in your county that will be best suited for the closing meeting on Saturday. You will of course use the teachers of your county in getting the meetings properly advertised and interest created. I shall appreciate it if you will return the enclosed sheet containing the list of names of possible speakers on or before August 6.

Very sincerely, GEO. COLVIN, State Superintendent

Tom M. Davis, formerly of this place, has been selected as Deputy Revenue Collector, at Paducah, and took up his duties last week. He succeeds H. K. Woods, who has returned to his home here.

PICNIC AT CHAPEL HILL

The Farmers Club at Chapel Hill had its first annual picnic at Chapel Hill last Friday. The good people of that community who always take an active interest in all things which help to develop the best interests of the community, had previously made all arrangements to make the occasion a success in every way.

Miss Anna Stenbridge, who is teaching a successful school at Chapel Hill dismissed her school for the day and helped in every possible way to stress the importance of the day. The Farmers' Club members and the other good people of the neighborhood under the leadership of their splendid president, Geo. W. Condit, had looked after the dinner which was of a kind to please the most fastidious.

County Agent Spencer was Master of Ceremonies and those who have been with Mr. Spencer at times like that know that he did the thing up in fine shape. Mr. Spencer is doing a great work and the wide-awake community of Chapel Hill are manifesting a splendid spirit of co-operation in putting on meetings of this kind and in doing those things which will advance the interests of Crittenden county in an agricultural way.

Mr. H. R. Neswanger from the Kentucky Experiment Station was there and gave a splendid talk on Orchardling.

Games constituted a large part of the program and everybody played. There were basket ball and volleyball games, races and contests of various sorts. There was a basket ball game in which one half of the players were married folks.

Judge Henderson was present and made an interesting talk on the morning program.

The people of Chapel Hill will look forward with pleasure to the picnic next year.

Farm Bureau News

A comparison of the financial condition of dairy farmers and dairy communities with cotton farmers and cotton communities in Mississippi brings out the fact that while 80 or 90 percent of the cotton farmers owe banks money and are asking for extensions on their notes, there are few instances of notes held against dairy farmers. The merchants in towns surrounded by the best dairy communities report their business thruout last fall and winter as remarkably good.

This statement is made on the authority of the extension dairy husbandman who for nearly 10 years has engaged in the movement carried on by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College of Mississippi to build up dairying in that state and furnish the farmers with a source of income after the boll weevil had reduced the production of the South's great staple.

To farmers these facts should lend encouragement to break away from the one crop system, the specialist says, to the bankers and business men they should be convincing proof that greater farm prosperity attained by a more permanent and constructive type of farming benefits the entire community. The growth of the dairy industry thruout the south is limited in a very large degree by the willingness and ability of bankers and other moneyed interests to finance the cotton grower of the past in buying cows and making the necessary changes in order to branch out in a new line.

Practice diversified farming, do not put all your eggs in one basket. Dairy farming furnishes a steady year around income.

Poultry Culling Report

Mrs. W. R. Cruce, Crayne, makes a very interesting report regarding the poultry culling done by the poultry specialist and County Agent at her place the last week in July. Her flock consisted of 86 hens and before the culling demonstration they were averaging about 48 eggs per day. Almost 35 hens were culled out and the flock average 10 days following the demonstration was 42 eggs per day. Note the large number of looser hens that were disposed of.

Mrs. J. B. Hina, Sullivan, had a flock of 36 hens. The County Agent culled out 11 of them and the eleven culled produced only two eggs the week following the demonstration. We hope to have more figures each week to show the results of this important work.

Winter cover crops would save much nitrogen. Approximately $20,000,000 worth of nitrogen would be saved in Kentucky in one season by planting cover crops on all land which is in need of them providing one half as much of this element is saved from leaching by the crops as was saved on New York Experiment fields, according to estimates made by R. E. Stephenson, crop field agent from the College of Agriculture who is co-operating with land owners in more than 50 counties of the state in a cover crop campaign. This amount of nitrogen is enough to produce more than 40,000,000 bushels of corn next year.

In addition to the nitrogen which the cover crops would save they would be of further benefit in that they would prevent soil erosion, add organic matter to the soil, make plant food more available and provide winter pasture. Mr. Stephenson bases his estimates on the fact that Kentucky has about 5,000,000 acres of land under cultivation in regular crops, 3,000,000 acres of which will be in need of a winter cover crop to protect them during the season.

R. A. FOSTER WINS HONOR

R. A. Foster, who has had charge of the John Locke School at Elkton, has resigned his position there to take charge of the English Department at Eastern Kentucky State Normal School at Richmond with an increase in salary.

Mr. Foster is the son of Joe Foster, who resides near Mattoon. He was one of the first boys to take advantage of free tuition in the Marion High School for county students and one of the first to graduate.

Mr. Foster is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and has taken post graduate work at Princeton University.

HARTFORD TIRES and TUBES

THERE is no reason why there should be one standard for tires and another standard for tubes.

When the makers of Hartford Tires put their name on a tube it stands for 100% Hartford quality and must carry out the Hartford service reputation.

To say that Hartford Tubes are as good as Hartford Tires means a great deal to many motorists in this town.

Don't Miss the Pennyroyal Fair

Hopkinsville, Ky., Next Week---

August 30, 31, Sept., 1, 2, 3, 1921

Thousands of dollars more than ever before have been spent to make the PENNYROYAL FAIR this year bigger and better, and no fair anywhere offers a better program.

Special attention has been paid to the racing and each day there will be trotting, pacing and running races—not less than eight each day—for generous purses. Entries already made insure an unusually large number of the best horses.

To encourage agriculture and livestock production, women's work, and boys and girls club work, has always been a primary object of this fair, and the exhibits in these departments this year will be the best ever shown.

Each day thrilling auto polo games will be played as a free attraction in front of the grandstand; four nights (August 31, Sept. 1, 2, 3) a marvelous display of fireworks will be given; there will also be many clean, high class midway shows and all the features that go to make an enjoyable and profitable fair.

Write for complete catalogue, and don't fail to attend.

GOOD ROADS SAVE MUCH GAS

Trucks Use Twice as Much Fuel on Dirt Highways as on One Built of Concrete.

That good roads cut the cost of gasoline more than 50 per cent is stated by "Freight Transportation Digest." A loaded two-ton truck was used in a test and in running 100 miles on an earth road consumed 17.8
gallons of gasoline, making an average of 5.78 miles a gallon. The cost figured at 25 cents a gallon was $4.38.
The same truck was used on a concrete road and traveled the same distance on 8.49 gallons of gasoline, making 11.78 miles per gallon. The cost in this case, figured on the same basis, was $2.12. The net savings in cost of gasoline on the improved highway was therefore $2.21, or more than 100 per cent.

Statisticians could step in here and conjure a colossal sum to represent the savings in gasoline cost if all the highways of the United States were paved, remarks the Columbus (O.) Dispatch. They could, for instance, assume that all of the one-half million motortrucks in the country were two-ton trucks, and on this basis figure out a saving in gasoline costs equal to a couple of Liberty loan issues.

This enormous reduction in gasoline costs, coupled with the ability to handle loads with less tractional effort, has become one of the strongest arguments for good roads. The two tests cited in this instance show conclusively that poor roads are expensive to the farmer and merchant alike.
The farmer who hauls with a motortruck is getting only one-eighth of the profit he could get and the merchant and inter-city freight truck operator are paying out twice what they should for gasoline and are getting only one-eighth of the profit they could get.

GOOD GUIDE FOR TRAVELERS

Arrows on Signs Mark Detours on Iowa's Highways and Point Out Proper Direction.

All detours around roads closed to traffic in Iowa are carefully marked for the guidance and protection of travelers. Signs are erected at intervals so that the proper direction can be taken with the slightest deviation from the regular route. The signs, as furnished by the state to the counties at cost, have a yellow arrow printed against a black ground, with the word
"detour" above and below the arrow.

The blank sign furnished to the counties is shown in the upper corner, and as used, in the lower. The larger illustration shows how the signs are disposed to guide traffic around a closed road.

When the sign has been placed with the arrow pointing in the proper direction, the "detour" below is deleted with black paint. The name of the place the arrow is pointing to, and other information, is stenciled inside
the arrow.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

MATHEMATICS OF BAD ROADS

Farmer Solves Problem of Hours Lost
in Making Trip Over Road That Is Deep in Mud.

If it takes a farmer, making a trip through the mud one hour and a half longer than when the roads are firm, how many hours are lost in a year if 1,000 farmers make an average of 12 trips a month? What would be the monetary loss if each 1½ hours lost be estimated at 75 cents per hour for each man and his team? This "two-in-one" proposition gave our old cat considerable trouble, but he finally worked it out thus: One farmer multiplied by 1½ hours multiplied by 12 trips, multiplied by 1,000 farmers, multiplied by 12 months equals 216-000 hours lost; going a step further, and multiplying 216,000 by 75 cents, you have $162,000 per annum lost to the farmers. Our old cat is now pondering how many road bonds this annual loss would float at 5 per cent interest.—Union Times.

Points of Interest Marked.
Practically every point of interest within a radius of 75 miles from Philadelphia is distinctly marked on more than 800 miles of important highways.

Detroit Best Regulated.
Detroit has the reputation of being one of the best regulated traffic centers in the country.

Pays Good Dividends.
A good home fruit and vegetable garden is paying good dividends on time and labor invested these days.

GREAT DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS

Will Be New Night Feature of Pennyroyal Fair at Hopkinsville

It isn't often that the people of this region are offered the opportunity right at home of seeing really high class fireworks. But this year all those who attend the fair at Hopkinsville will have the chance to see the biggest fireworks exhibit which has ever been offered in this country anywhere.

It is more than a mere exhibit of fireworks for the show starts with a high class hippodrome program given by trained athletes who present balancing acts, trapeze work, etc.
Then comes the big feature of the program which is entitled "No Mans Land" and is a faithful reproduction of a terrific night battle in France.
The scenic effects for this are the largest ever produced and they were all planned and executed by veterans of the great war.

In addition to this there are a large number of set pieces such as photo in fireworks of Gen. Pershing and other notable men, the peacock, Niagara Falls, The Rose of No Man's Land and others with aerial showers and bombs and shells.

All this makes a wonderful display and an intensely interesting program. It will be given four nights at the Pennyroyal Fair, August 31, September 1, 2, 3.

URGE PASSAGE OF RESOLUTION

Below is a Facsimile Reproduction of a Resolution Advocating Passage of Two Amendments

Legislative Committee, Ky. Farm Bureau Federation.

The Farm Bureau Federation of the state of Kentucky will work hard to pass the two amendments to the Constitution which will be voted on next November. The Legislative Committee of the organization at a recent meeting at the headquarters in Louisville passed a strong resolution urging members everywhere to help pass these two much needed amendments. Your correspondent secured the photograph shown above at the meeting and the resolution signed, which is reproduced below:

413 STARKS BUILDING LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

July 22, 1921

At a session of the Legislative Committee of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, held at its offices in Louisville, Ky., on the above date, the following resolution was introduced and passed:

"We advocate the passage of the two Constitutional Amendments to be submitted to the voters of the State, one of which Amendments takes the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction out of politics, and the other freeing a portion of the public school fund to equalize educational opportunities and to encourage needed improvement, and urge that the County Farm Bureaus throughout the State give wide publicity to this, and insist that each Farm Bureau member of the State vote for these Amendments at the coming election, believing that in the passage of these two Amendments the educational system of the State will be placed upon a higher and more efficient plane."

PUBLIC BUILDINGS FOR PUBLIC USES.

Need exists for the Government to exercise the power to help voters get more control over their own machinery. One of the ways in which this can be done is by getting greater use of the schoolhouse. The schoolhouse ought to be used more than they are now. At present we leave the schoolhouse vacant and useless excepting when the children are in it. The schoolhouse may be turned into the greatest power of advantage by using it for political gatherings where men may exchange ideas.

We ought to use these buildings that represent the most important interest of all of us, not only for thrashing out the problems of the political campaigns, but for polling places. As it is now, polling places are in sheds, barber shops, and saloons, everywhere but where they should be—in the schools. Every schoolhouse should be the polling place of its district.

At first though this using the school for political meetings may sound revolutionary; but it has been tried and it works out to advantage. It ought not to be necessary for the parties to hire buildings in which their candidates are to speak. The schoolhouse ought to be the Senate Chamber of the people where citizens come together not as partisans, but as neighbors to hear the claims of all candidates and to discuss live issues.

AIM TO PREVENT PLANT DISEASES

Much Could Be Saved to Future Crops if Care Is Taken to Avoid Infected Plants.

CROP ROTATION IS HELPFUL

Setting of Few Clubrooted Plants May Give Start That Will Ruin Garden for Years—Wilt Is Easily Transmitted.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

What a lot might have been saved if we could have applied to crop rotation 20 years ago what we know now about the control of plant diseases. And equally true, what a lot we could save in future crops if we would only apply the knowledge that we have. "Future crops" is written advisedly, for the introduction of a disease into new soil may affect for years to come the crops planted on that soil unless radical and extensive measures are taken to eradicate the disease from the soil, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Infests Soil for Many Years.

Take, for example, the case of clubroot of the crucifers; i. e., cabbage, cauliflower, mustard, etc. The setting of a few clubrooted plants may give the start that in a single season will make for years an otherwise good garden unsuitable for cabbage and other crucifers. A case is known in which a cabbage patch in Pennsylvania was abandoned 27 years ago because of the prevalence of clubroot. When cabbage was again planted the crop was badly affected. The disease another to be used for seed. Too late it was discovered that the potatoes were infested with root-knot producing nematodes, which were, of course, scattered far and wide by this means. While this may not have been the first introduction of the disease into that state, it was at least one of many introductions which have resulted in the wider and wider spread of root-knot and the loss of millions of dollars.

Set Only Clean Plants.

Tomatoes, tobacco, celery, peppers, figs, peaches, and many other plants are likewise instrumental in carrying this disease. As indicated by the name, its principal manifestation is on the roots of plants in the form of swellings or knots. Severe infestation will result in the yellowing and dwarfing and often the death of the plant.

Wilt constitutes another group of diseases that may be transmitted to new soil by means of diseased plants. They are manifested by a wilting of the whole plant. These, and the ones referred to above, may be and ought to be kept out of new land. The way to do it is to set out only clean plants.

The way to keep the plants clean is to sterilize the seed beds. If steam pressure is available, the inverted-pan method described in Farmers' Bulletin 906 is best. Such steam pressure may often be had in the greenhouse from the boiler used for heating. For outside seed beds any kind of a steam boiler, either on a stationary outfit or a steam traction engine, will furnish plenty of pressure. If steam pressure is not available, good results can be accomplished by the hot-water treatments advocated in Department Bulletin 818.

GET CUSTOMERS FOR PARCEL POST TRADE

Write to Relatives and Acquaintances in Cities.

Many People Will Not Order Farm Produce From Strangers Because They Do Not Know of Conditions of Production.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

For producers who wish to market by parcel post the most satisfactory way of finding customers is to write to friends, relatives, or acquaintances in cities, seeking their trade, say specialists of the bureau of markets, United States Department of Agriculture.

Purchasers, on the other hand, often can locate reliable producers by correspondence with friends, relatives, or acquaintances in the country. More than 75 per cent of the produce being marketed by parcel post in a number of cities in which investigations have been made is sent by persons who obtain their customers in this way.

Making business contact is less difficult between friends because there is an absence of the suspicion and distrust that sometimes is found between strangers. Many persons will not order farm produce from strangers because they do not know the conditions under which the articles are produced. It is said.

Although ways of obtaining customers are numerous, no method is so promising as that of working up a trade with or through friends. This method of establishing business relationship is especially recommended for the general farmer who has a limited amount of produce. Those who wish to market a great deal of produce by parcel post may find it necessary to obtain customers by personally soliciting strangers or through advertising in newspapers and by other public means. Another method is to write to friends in the city, asking for a list of acquaintances who would probably be interested in receiving table supplies by parcel post.

ROOF ON POULTRY BUILDINGS

Decided Advantage to Unroll Prepared Material and Let in Light and Sunshine.

When putting prepared roofing on poultry houses, it is a decided advantage to unroll the roofing and to let in light and sunshine for a few hours. The roofing expands from the warming and lies smoother when applied to the roof. The inside of the roll is cooler than the outside air, and so if not placed in the sun before application, it will expand after nailing and produce wrinkles.

CAMPAIGN FOR BETTER SIRES

Department of Agriculture is Aiding Movement by Issuing Number of Publications.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In response to many requests for information to be used in starting better-sires movements in various localities, the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, has prepared a list of available publications and other material in the department. It has also furnished data useful to persons interested in legislation for restricting the use of mongrel sires.

Except when the open range is involved, however, or there is need to control inferior sires from running at large, specialists of the bureau prefer a continuance of educational work to legislation. They place emphasis on the fact that the work, although involving certain records and blanks, is strictly educational. To aid in conducting educational campaigns, the department has issued a number of circulars, posters and newspaper articles, as well as much mimeographed material. A booklet entitled "Better Sires—Better Stock," explaining the movement, can be obtained by addressing the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Other material on this subject is: Yearbook Separate 818, Harnessing Heredity to Improve the Nation's Live Stock.

MILK HELPS YOUNG ANIMALS

Skim Milk and Other Creamery By-Products Are Useful Feeds for Pigs and Calves.

While whole milk is nature's balanced food and is valuable for young animals, skim milk and other creamery by-products, such as buttermilk and whey, are also useful feeds, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Skim milk is fed to young pigs in the proportion of about three pounds to one of concentrates, such as cornmeal or shorts. Buttermilk, which has not been diluted too much with water, has nearly the same feeding value as skim milk. It is a better food for swine than for calves because it is apt to cause digestive disturbances when fed to the latter, unless considerable care is used. Whey is used almost exclusively in feeding swine. It is about two-thirds as valuable as skim milk as a food. Accordingly from ten to twelve pounds of whey are equivalent to one pound of grain. Sweet skim milk, when supplemented with other feed such as corn meal or wheat shorts is very good for young calves. If beef calves are to be fed skim milk, they should be fed in practically the same manner as dairy calves.

HIGHER PRICES FOR HORSES

Farmers Are Advised to Breed More Heavy Draft Animals Wanted for City Hauling.

Heavy draft horses are in greater demand and commanding higher prices than at any time in the last 20 years, according to the proprietor of a Boston trucking concern which maintains 100 horses and 28 auto trucks. In a letter received at University farm he says: "For the short haul the horse has no competitor. We buy at any time and have paid as high as $900 each, but are not getting as good horses as we would like to use. We believe the peak stage of motortruck sales and use has been reached. Farmers should be encouraged to breed better horses."

BRIDAL SUPERSTITIONS.

It is unlucky to give one's sweetheart a brooch or pin.

The maid who accepts a watch from a man will never marry him.

It is bad luck to accept a four footed animal from a male admirer.

If you lose or break a gift from a fiance you will not marry him.

If a man gives his sweetheart an umbrella they will surely quarrel.

To have some one present you with a gift of chinaware is a sign of a wedding.

Don't give your sweetheart a pen, pencil, or penholder or he will write to others and forget all about you.
